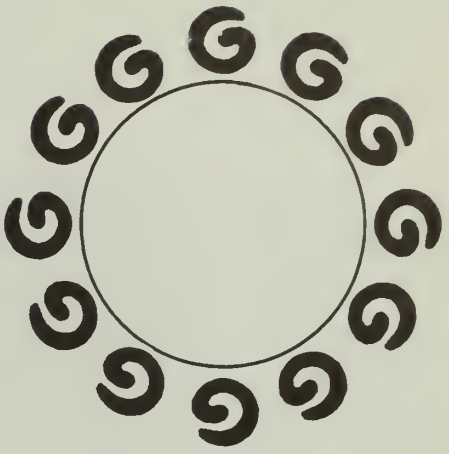
"I am a part of all that I have met . . ."



FOREWORD

The progression of individual character during the transitional high school years extends from the bewildering naïveté of the early teens to the exhilarating sense of maturity which graduation brings.
Such a transformation cannot be attributed to any conscious process, nor can it be traced through any well-defined phases.
It is, in fact, an overturning assimilation of reactions and impressions, of memories and emotions which synthesize into intellectual and spiritual values.
Every human contact, every achievement, every disappointment becomes a part of the total personal experience which is the essence of character. Indeed,
"I am a part of all that I have met . . ."

Experience is the interplay of forces both transient and enduring.

As stimulators of discussion, teachers often make the difference between apathy and initiative.

Study—the painful circumstance of discovery.

Achievement—the goal of effort and the compensation for sacrifice.

The exhilaration around us is a frenzied mixture of joy and anticipation.

RED RAIDER FIGHT,
SCORE.
WIN!

Comradeship is the thread . . .

which binds whimsical and day-to-day encounters.

A social event is a gathering of enchanting illusions.

FACULTY ADVISOR

MISS MARY HARDING

FACULTY

MR. JOHN W. WALSH
PRINCIPAL

Coordinating the desires and activities of both faculty and students, Mr. Walsh has worked hard to bring plans to reality. Not only as administrator, but also as counselor and promoter, he has inspired sportsmanship and pride in the individual and in the student body as a whole. Thus he has made our years at North more than a rigid training period, creating an atmosphere of mutual respect and sincere exchange.

We are grateful that our principal has helped to create a meaningful learning and maturing experience.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Robert Pruitt,
Superintendent of Schools.

Mr. Martin Casey,
Assistant Principal.

Mr. Roy Merritt,
Assistant Principal.

ENGLISH

Seated: Mrs. Anita Buchanan; Miss Joan Wicksted; Mr. John Hofferty, Dept. Head; Miss Rachel Christianson; Mrs. Judith Mahlberg; Mr. John Young. Standing: Mrs. Marie Banks; Miss Rose Enos; Miss Elizabeth Zentmyer; Mr. David Meaney; Mr. Paul Carlin; Miss Margaret Horn; Mrs. Sharon Bready; Mrs. Barbara Simpson. Missing from picture: Miss Gordene Everett, Mr. Thomas Murphy.

In studying the literary achievements of the past, we have gained an insight into Man's perpetual struggle for awareness and his attempts to define his existence in a meaningful way. We have analyzed the structure of the language in order to discover its most effective use and to relate our knowledge of its subtleties to an understanding of the conceptual expressions of Western literature.

Dept. Head Mr. Hofferty confers with Miss Horn.

Mrs. Simpson.

Mr. Alfredo Peterson, Spanish; Mr. Arthur Tanguay, French; Miss Louise Fifield, Latin; Miss Ruth Meisner, Dept. Head, German; Mr. Peter DeVore, German, French; Mrs. Lucy Medaglia, French; Mrs. Prudence Alfaro, Spanish; Mrs. Andrée Caro, French, Spanish.

". . . and if Virgil were alive today . . ."

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Through our study of foreign languages we have discovered modes of thought and expression nonexistent in our own culture. A comprehension of the tenets of written and verbal communication has allowed us to view Man in his different ethnic surroundings and has led us to value a free exchange among the peoples of the world.

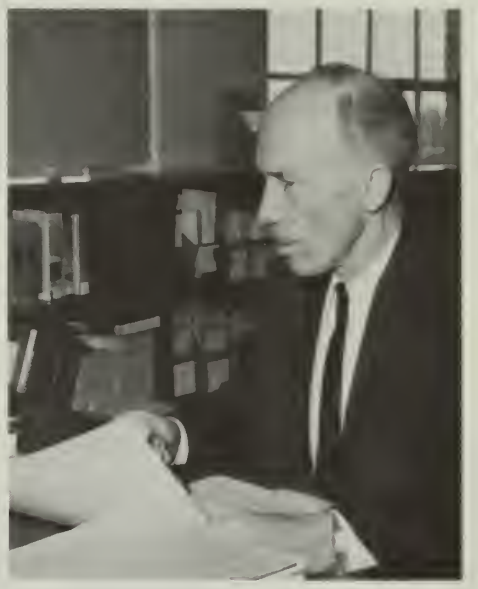
SOCIAL STUDIES

Seated: Miss Dolores Tormey, U.S. History, Modern European History; Mr. Charles Forester, Prob. of Democracy; Mr. Herman Noyes, Dept. Head, U.S. History; Miss Margaret Locke, Prob. of Democracy, World Civ.; Mr. Alan Duckworth, World Civ. Standing: Mr. Brendan Ridge, Prob. of Democracy; Mr. Paul Stanton, Prob. of Democracy; Mr. John Donahue, U.S. History, Modern European History; Mr. Lloyd Hill, World Civ., Civics; Mr. Norman MacWilliam, U.S. History; Mr. Michael Hurley, Prob. of Democracy, Civics; Mr. Anthony Penna, World Civ., Civics; Mr. Leonard Miceli, Civics. Missing from picture: Mr. Robert Gentry, World Civ., Civics; Mrs. Michael Moskowitz, U.S. History, Civics; Miss Elizabeth Savage, World Civ., Geography.



Mr. Noyes, Dept. Head.

Mr. Forester looks to the left.

Miss Tormey discusses eighteenth century power politics.

In our Social Studies courses we have studied Man in his role as both maker and product of history. We have investigated the complex interrelationships of human society as they exist in our own country and in the other nations of the world. In dissecting the foundations of the contemporary social order and in defining its problems, we have developed a sensitivity to the forces of change which will determine the direction of the future.

MATHEMATICS

We have studied mathematics as the symbolic representation of the logical relationships of the universe. Our attention has been focused upon the orderly and rational sifting of proven facts in the pursuit of specific truths. We have learned to question the validity of many statements by seeking their derivation in terms of our own knowledge, and have, in this way, strengthened our powers of judgment and expanded our capacity for logical thought.

Mrs. Black demonstrates an Algebra II problem.

Miss Horrigan, Dept. Head.

Seated: Mrs. Barbara Krabek, Coll. Math 1 and 2, Prac. Math 1; Miss Katherine Horrigan, Dept. Head, Coll. Math 4; Mrs. Margaret King, Coll. Math 1, 2 and 3. Standing: Mr. Thaddeus Sadowski, Coll. Math 1; Mr. David Hourin, Coll. Math 1 and 2; Mr. Gerald Lyons, Coll. Math 1 and 3; Mr. Edmund King, Coll. Math 2 and 3; Mrs. Ruth Black, Coll. Math 2 and 3; Mr. Carl Leone, Coll. Math 3 and 4, Calculus; Mr. Murray Roberts, General Math; Mr. Charles Baillargeon, Prac. Math 1 and 2, Coll. Math 1. Missing from picture: Mr. Philip Ryan, Project Able.

SCIENCE

Seated: Miss Marjorie Bollen, Biology, General Science; Miss Katherine Townsend, Biology; Miss Mary Harding, Coll. Chemistry, General Science; Mrs. Hope Jahn, Biology. Standing: Mr. Richard Russell, General Science; Mr. Thaddeus Sadowski, Physics; Mr. Roy Sinclair, General Chemistry, General Physics, Aeronautics; Miss Wilma Schields, Dept. Head, Biology; Mr. Roland Small, Coll. Chemistry; Mr. Alfred Cawthorne, Biology; Mr. Charles Waugh, Coll. Chemistry. Missing from picture: Miss Ann Santacross, General Science.

In our science courses we have endeavored to discover the interrelationships between matter and energy and to relate the theoretical and experimental aspects of science to such practical applications as natural conservation and medicine. These experiences in science have encouraged, in all students, a respect for the relationship between Man and the universe.

Miss Schields, Dept. Head.

" . . . and head for the nearest exit."

FINE ARTS

Miss Stowe, Librarian.

Mrs. Paulson.

The extensive resources of our library and the competent guidance of its staff have enabled us to use effectively the intellectual achievements of the past as a groundwork for the formulation of our own ideas.

Mrs. DeCilio.

We have studied Art and Music as forms of expression which extend from the inherent human need for esthetic satisfaction. Our study has made us appreciative of natural and man-made works of beauty and has shown us ways in which to cultivate our own creative gifts.

Seated: Miss Florence Stowe, Library; Miss Joanne Wilcin, Art. Standing: Mr. Carl Leone, Music; Mr. Robert Charron, Art. Missing from picture: Mr. Francis Rull, Instrumental Instruction.

PRACTICAL ARTS

Industrial Arts courses have developed in us an appreciation for good design and professional workmanship.

Our experiences in Driver Education classes have provided some of the skills we will need in becoming mature and responsible adults.

Edgar Phillips, Industrial Arts; Arthur Burgess, Driver Education; Paul Hogan, General Shop; Edward Harrington, Technical Drawing. Missing from picture: Robert Laing, General Shop, Industrial Arts.

"We thought we'd all get together and build a house, Mr. Laing."

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Mrs. Morse, Dept. Head, offers advice.

The training we have received in our commercial courses has prepared us for positions in the highly competitive world of modern business. Learning the most up-to-date skills and procedures, we have developed a respect for perfection and the sensitivity to detail so vital to effective management.

Seated: Mr. Joseph Cunniff, Bookkeeping, Typewriting; Mrs. Mary Conlin, Salesmanship, Business Law, Economics; Mrs. Winifred Tikkanen, Clerical Office Practice, Typewriting; Mr. Charles Bunker, General Business, Salesmanship, Typewriting. Standing: Mrs. Julianne Morse, Dept. Head, Office Machines Operation, Stenographic Office Practice; Mr. Graton Howland, Business Math; Mrs. Rena MacBride, Bookkeeping, Typewriting; Miss Marie Youngerman, Stenography, Typewriting. Missing from picture: Miss Winifred Stewart, Business Math, Typewriting; Miss Sara Tolchinsky, Stenography, Typewriting.

Those compound interest problems are no joke, Mr. Howland.

Miss Stewart casts an approving eye.

Seated: Mrs. Margaret Mahoney, Clothing and Textiles. Standing: Miss Mary Hayes, Homemaking, Clothing and Textiles; Mrs. Barbara Champney, Homemaking; Mrs. Alice McLaughlin, Dietetics, Food and Nutrition, Homemaking.

"Should I turn this, Miss Hayes?"

HOME ECONOMICS

Courses in Home Economics have made us discriminating consumers and efficient managers. A knowledge of nutrition and the basics of clothing construction will prove invaluable to us in professional or domestic life.

OCCUPATIONAL PROGRAM

Mrs. McAuliffe.

Mrs. Dorothy McAuliffe, English, Homemaking, Math; Mr. Gerald Ridge, Occupational Program Chairman, Teacher-Counselor; Mr. Robert Nolan, Math, Social Studies.

The Special Education program has furnished opportunities for close personal guidance within the framework of meaningful work experience. Integrating classroom and vocational training, it has successfully prepared its students for secure occupational positions.

READING

The development of a broad conceptual background and of differential reading skills has been the goal of Mrs. Dolloff's classes. Working on an individual basis, students learned to coordinate technique with purpose in the reading of diverse types of literature.

Mrs. Priscilla Dolloff: Reading.

GUIDANCE AND COUNSELING

Mr. Savitsky.

Mr. Charles Munson,
School Psychologist.

The knowledge and advice of our counselors have helped us to make decisions in times of uncertainty. The Guidance Department staff have concerned themselves with our personal difficulties and ambitions and have thus influenced our vocational preferences and our plans for future education.

Seated: Miss Caroline Welch, Dept. Head. Standing: Mrs. Dale Salm, Miss Agnes Berry, Mr. John Murphy, Mr. Albert Savitsky. Missing from picture: Miss Marjorie Currier.

Miss Welch, Dept. Head, presiding at National Honor Society tea table.

HEALTH AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION

"It's skill, not size, girls."

Seated: Miss Alice Gray, Nurse; Miss Mary O'Connor, Physical Education. Standing: Mr. Earl Vermillion, Physical Education; Miss Katherine McCoy, Physical Education; Mr. George Golding, Physical Education.

The relationship between a well-trained body and a disciplined mind has been impressed upon us by our nurse and our physical education instructors. Through group participation and individualized work, we have acquired sportsmanship and a knowledge of physical conditioning which will help us to keep fit in the future.

Mrs. Barba checks on student records.

Seated: Miss Esthér Morrison. Standing: Mrs. Rita Burke, Mrs. Naomi Harding. Missing from picture: Mrs. Helene Barba.

Mr. Walsh and his secretary, Miss Morrison, savor a bit of humor.

OFFICE STAFF

Managing the administrative affairs of a high school as large as North often presents seemingly insurmountable problems. Yet the skillful and efficient work of our office staff has made such difficulties fade into daily routine, thus assuring the continued effectiveness of our administration.

CAFETERIA STAFF

Mrs. Katherine Smith; Mrs. Katherine Chase; Mrs. Christine Haight; Mrs. Florence Reyenger, Manager; Mrs. Mary Pettinelli; Mrs. Helen Golden. Missing from picture: Mrs. Margaret Harrington; Mrs. Dorothy McGuire; Mrs. Mildred Meldon.

The women who staff our kitchen and cafeteria have worked unfailingly at the preparation and serving of nutritious and appetizing food. Their efforts have made lunch at North a well-organized and pleasant experience.

" . . . fire burn and caldron bubble."

CUSTODIAL STAFF

One cannot pass through the corridors, rooms, or offices at North without being impressed by their orderly appearance. Our custodians are indeed deserving of their reputation as effective and congenial members of the staff, always willing to sacrifice their spare time for our extra-curricular activities.

Seated: Mrs. Marion Enos; Mr. Henry Dillon, Head Custodian; Mrs. Edna Leone. Standing: Mr. James Faulkner; Mr. Francis Grondin; Mr. John Eaton; Mr. James Grappi; Mr. Charles Murphy.

SENIORS

THE ROAD NOT TAKEN

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Through as for that the passing there
Had worn them just about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Some where ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

ACTIVITIES

The Student Council.

Council Officers: M. Moore, Vice-President; W. Ayers, President; H. Rollins, Secretary; S. Sheppard, Treasurer.

The members of the Student Council, under the direction of Mr. Carlin and President Bill Ayers, have worked energetically in the continuance of traditional activities and in the initiation of new programs. This year has seen attractive changes in the book store, one of the Council's most successful undertakings, as well as a liberalization of the dress code and the publication of an informative newsletter. The sale of bookcovers, pennants, and buttons raised money for contributions to many of our worthwhile projects. Continuing its support of our intellectual activities, the Council provided trophies for the Science Fair winners and sold Christmas cards for the benefit of the American Field Service Exchange Program. In all of its endeavors, the Student Council has worked toward the establishment of a closer communication among the students, the faculty, and the administration at North.

STUDENT COUNCIL

NORTH STAR

Under the aegis of Miss Santacross, the North Star struggled under heavy financial burdens, yet succeeded in presenting lively accounts of student and faculty life at North. Pointed editorial comments aroused interest in controversial issues such as the plan for the establishment of a central high school system in Quincy. Overseeing the myriad works of publication was the Editorial Staff: Editor-in-Chief, Mary Ellen Jaehnig; Assistant Editor, Maryellen Fitzgerald; Business Manager, Nancy Rollins; Layout Editor, Kathy McClean; and Photographers, Greg Fallon and Isabel Damon.

The North Star Staff.

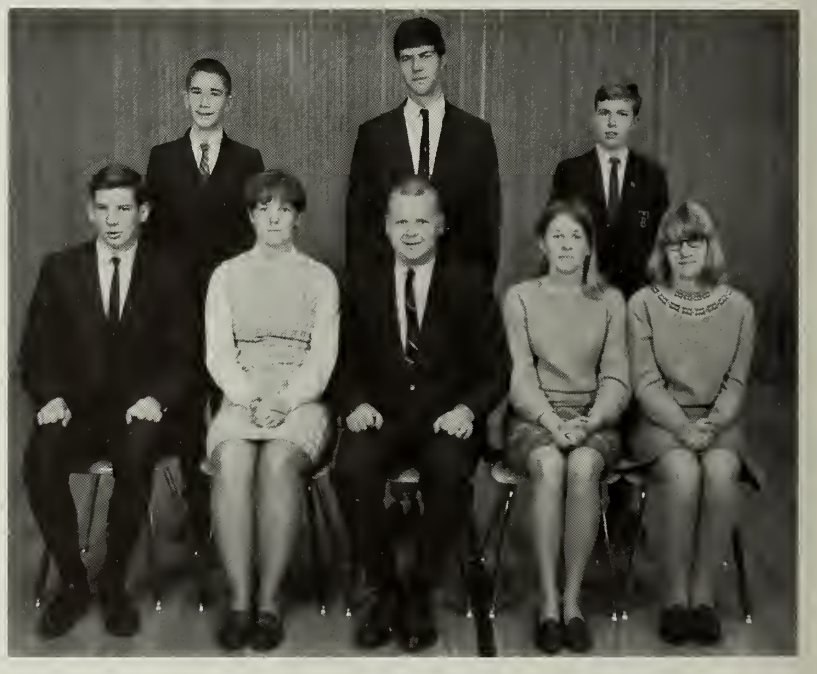
DEBATING

The Debating Team.



Arming themselves with ready facts and sharp wit, the Debating Team, led by Mr. Duckworth, calmly faced the blows of bloodthirsty opponents and brutally frank judges. Undaunted by vicious cross-examinations and scathing rebuttals, the team emerged from the tournaments at Dartmouth, Columbia, and the University of Maine with few scars and most of the spoils.

President Tom Mullen discusses Key issues with several members of the Club.

KEY CLUB

In keeping with its purpose of giving service to school and community, the Key Club executed numerous projects requiring the active involvement of all its members. This year the Club stressed the importance of the dress code and urged students to improve conditions in the cafeteria. Weekly meetings, presided over by Advisor Mr. Carlin and President Tom Mullen, produced plans for dances and a car wash, and laid the groundwork for the Club's work with retarded children. Every Friday several boys spent an afternoon bringing fun and companionship to youngsters in connection with the South Shore Association for Retarded Children, and, in December, the entire Key Club participated in the annual Christmas party for retarded children at the Quincy Y.M.C.A. In its encouragement of good citizenship and in its sponsorship of the annual Parents Appreciation Dinner, the Key Club demonstrated its propensity for service and its close alliance with the Kiwanis tradition.

The Key Club.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Members inducted in May, 1966.

Mr. James Collins recalls a humorous incident of his days as principal of North.

Mrs. Hanson, mother of 1966 President David Hanson, greets parents of inductees.

The presence of a group of distinguished men and women seemed an indication that last May's National Honor Society Induction was an occasion of singular importance. It was, in fact, a celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of the Society at North. In attendance were eight of the original members who presented to Mr. Walsh a scholarship in memory of their classmate and charter member Stephen Horton.

Selected by sponsors Mrs. Black and Mr. Miceli on the basis of their qualities of scholarship, leadership, character and service, members strove to reinforce the ideals upon which the Society was founded. President Albert Agresti, Vice-President Mary Jane White, Secretary Ellen Lutfy, and Treasurer Bernard Brown aided the group in planning a fall dance to raise money for the organ fund and in plotting the role of the National Honor Society in the promotion of intellectual interests at North.

Senior members elected in 1966 and 1967.

Second-year Foreign Language students who had earned grades of B+ or better were eligible for election to the French, German, Spanish, and Latin Honor Societies. Last spring the four groups joined forces to conduct penny collections to raise enough money to bring a foreign exchange student to North. Other spring activities included the traditional candle-lighting induction ceremony at which each new member pledged himself to the principles of his respective society. The Language Honor Societies have realized their objective by serving as a binding force among students and teachers who share a common interest in the languages and ethnic traditions of other nations.

The Science Club.

SCIENCE CLUB

The murmur of soft voices and the scraping of chairs being moved is punctuated by brief outbursts of laughter. Suddenly the room becomes quiet as two boys walk to the front. One introduces the other. Then the lights go out, and all eyes are focused on the illuminated square in the corner of the room.

It is the regular Wednesday afternoon meeting of the Science Club. This afternoon the exchange student, Peter Aitchison, is showing slides of the flora and fauna of his native country, Australia.

Led by President Roy Robertson, the Club has sponsored several lectures throughout the year, as well as the annual Science Fair; and for the second year four science students made an educational trip to Florida at Christmas time. These, and other activities, enliven the pursuit of scientific knowledge, while maintaining the high caliber of the Science Department at North.

"Well, I really don't understand it either, but . . ."

MARINE BIOLOGY CLUB

Roaming the sands of Minot Beach and the marshlands of Squantum were the members of the Marine Biology Club, collecting such creatures as sea urchins and star fish to facilitate their study of all forms of underwater life. At Tuesday afternoon meetings conservation was one of the most relevant topics of discussion, as students analyzed the books of Rachel Carson and arranged with Mr. Cawthorne for a lecture by the Director of the Massachusetts Wildlife Commission. Relating knowledge of marine life to the current problems of pollution and the depletion of resources, the Marine Biology Club stressed the effect of scientific research on today's social concerns.

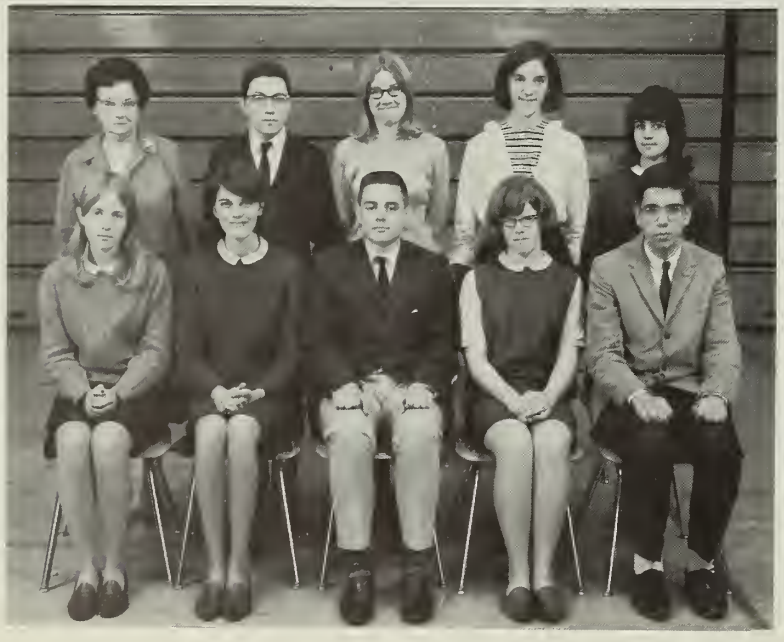
The Marine Biology Club.

The JETS Club.

JETS

The Junior Engineering and Technical Society provided an opportunity for students to increase their understanding of modern technological processes. Bi-monthly meetings featured lectures by prominent engineers and technicians as well as films and student demonstrations. With the help of advisor Mr. Russell and President Marilyn Lantery, members worked on projects of their own choosing, many of which developed into successful Science Fair entries. A trip to Proctor and Gamble brought the JETS into direct contact with the professionals whose work employs and advances the knowledge of the technological revolution.

The Math Club.



MATH CLUB

Calculating minds were drawn to monthly meetings with Miss Horrigan to extract cleverly concealed solutions which had defied the ingenuity of many before them. President John Molinari and Vice-President Mary Weafer arranged for a student teacher from Boston College to speak about advanced college study and career possibilities in the field of mathematics.

The Vietnam War and the problems of Latin America were two of the most controversial topics of discussion among the members of the World Affairs Council. Headed by Mr. Hurley and President David Mulhearn, the Council sponsored lectures by Mr. Peterson and Mr. Penna, and attended monthly meetings of the State-Wide Council, at which members from other Massachusetts schools shared views and information on current international problems.

GREAT BOOKS CLUB

On Friday afternoons small groups of students would cluster around Miss Persis Johnson to practice the art of constructive skepticism. Probing the nature of wisdom, God, and virtue, they looked to such works as Ethics, Oedipus Rex, and Leviathan, while at the same time exposing their own views to the scrutiny of their friends. By testing the personal validity of diverse viewpoints, students discovered that the most satisfying answers are those which come from within themselves.

LIBRARY STAFF

While not delivering study hall slips and distributing curt overdue notices, Library Staff members spent much of their time in a secluded third floor cubicle. No secret dealings were involved; they worked with Miss Stowe in learning how to bind, cover, and classify books. Some of the more courageous members joined Mrs. DeCilio, Mrs. Paulson, and Mr. Penna to face the 2:30 mob at the check-out desk, and to bear the morning-after consequences by sorting out jumbled heaps of books. Entertaining faculty and parents at the annual spring tea, the Library Staff provided a delightful climax to a year of invaluable service.

TEACHERS' CAREER CLUB

Students interested in all levels of teaching, from elementary school to college, met with Mr. Murphy to plan ways in which they could acquaint themselves with the characteristic abilities and inclinations of competent teachers. A trip to Beechwood Knoll School afforded the group a first-hand view of the practical challenges of their future profession.

Aware of the growing trend toward specialization in the medical occupations, the Nurses' Career Club sponsored lectures by nurses and technicians involved in different areas of concentration. Guided by Miss Gray and their officers, President Sue Adams, Vice-President Terry Malzone, Secretary June Shaughnessy and Treasurer Kathy Vaughn, members sold candy to raise funds for a scholarship, and visited the Boston City Hospital and the Faulkner Hospital to observe the latest techniques in patient care and research.

One of the Council's projects was to collect gifts for soldiers fighting in Vietnam.

"And when the flood waters roll in . . ."

Working with Homeroom Representatives, the Red Cross Council collected books, soap, razor blades, and other articles to fill gift boxes for soldiers in Vietnam. As Christmas approached, Miss Gray and President Amy Leighton organized the Council in making favors and small gifts for the Oceanside Rest Home, and in fashioning decorations for the Veterans' Hospital in Brockton. Merging their efforts with those of other councils, the group launched the annual membership drive, using the proceeds to support the operations of the Quincy Chapter of the American Red Cross.

DRAMA WORKSHOP

A dramatic production involves many skills aside from the obvious ones of acting and directing. Recognizing this, Drama Workshop members, led by President Bob Hoel, concentrated on all aspects of the theater, including set design, costuming, make-up, and publicity. Aided by sponsors Mrs. Buchanan and Miss Zentmyer, the group arranged the Charles Players' presentation of The Living Stage and put on a play for the children at the Pollard School. Gathering experience gained through observation and participation, the Drama Workshop undertook the production of Eugene O'Neill's nostalgic comedy, Ah Wilderness!, executing it with artistic and technical excellence.

Long, painful hours of rehearsal are vital to a good production.

BAND

Every seventh period the second floor trembled with the assorted vibrations of the Band. Larger and more professional than ever before, the Band, directed by Mr. Leone and President David Mulhearn, entertained the crowd at football games with precision marching and animated half-time shows. After an exhausting season of parades and gridiron performances, the Band turned to concert work and to rehearsals for the Christmas assembly. Returning after vacation, the group began preparation for its exchange concert at Nashua, New Hampshire. Weeks of painstaking rehearsal paid off in a much-applauded performance at Nashua. Highlighting the remainder of the concert season were a visit from the Nashua band and the annual Spring Concert. This year the band has justly earned a reputation as one of the finest assemblies of young musicians that North has ever seen.

CONCERT CHOIR

Into the sometime early morning grayness of room 404 stumble the members of the Concert Choir, North's elite body of young vocal talent. Hand-picked by the Choir's director, Mr. Leone, they have sacrificed many last minute snatches of sleep in favor of 7:30 A.M. rehearsals for their various school and public performances. With a repertoire ranging from Bach to Rogers and Hammerstein, they have sung at the National Honor Society Induction and at the Christmas Assembly as well as at the annual Spring Concert and at Graduation. In October the Choir was invited to perform at the Lafayette College Glee Club Concert, and in December before a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club and at the Chamber of Commerce Christmas Festival. Among the outstanding Choir members several have been selected to take part in state and regional competition. Senior Cleo Papavizas and junior Roger Convoy were chosen as representatives to the All-State Festival at Boston University, and four members, Paul Haight, Marilyn Gore, Steve Crowley, and Cleo Papavizas were accepted at the New England Solo and Ensemble Festival in Burlington, Vermont. All told, the fun of those week end trips and the proud moments of recognition have more than compensated for the many painstaking hours of rehearsal.

This year the Girls' Club officers were determined to make the Club's traditional projects more dynamic and successful than ever. Opening the season with the "Mr. Touchdown" dance, the Girls' Club awarded trophies to Tom Lacey and John Magnarelli as the outstanding players on the 1966 football team. Soon after, the Thanksgiving food drive was under way, as money and foodstuffs were collected for needy Quincy families. Under the direction of Mrs. Champney, preparation began early for the midwinter social event of the year, the semiformal "Hearts and Flowers". The evening of February 11 found the gym adorned with a striking profusion of colorful blossoms and dazzling costumes. As winter turned into spring, May brought the gay antics of the Manet Show which entertained both the audience and the performers, and filled the gaps in the Manet's treasury.

SPIRIT COMMITTEE

Under their newly-acquired advisor, Mr. Leone, the Spirit Committee managed to stir up an unprecedented amount of support for athletics at North. Helen McLaughlin and Barbara Wolfe, Chairmen of the Fall Committee, and Judy Cross and Merry Lutts, Chairmen of the Winter Committee, led the groups in the planning of such tactics as staging two rallies and smothering the walls in the cafeteria and stairwells with signs and posters, thus creating an extended wave of enthusiasm for all of North's teams.

CLASS DAY COMMITTEE

Hundreds of bared knees and dusty pairs of sneakers showed up for the zaniest event of the year. Not even the Class Day Committee and their leader, Mr. Leone, were able to escape the flying water bullets of unlicensed pistols as the mob poured into buses and headed for Lake Pearl. When the too-short event ended we were sandy, happy, exhausted, and even slightly nostalgic.

Filling the gym on Tuesday and Friday afternoons were hordes of blue-suited, hard-driving female athletes, determined to defeat their classmates in fierce games of volleyball and basketball. Picking up points of strategy from their coach, Miss O'Connor, the girls organized into teams of eight or more, adopting whimsical names like "Bullwinkle's Brigade." As teams were eliminated and seasons drew to a close, everyone recalled the many clumsy and comical moments as well as the ups and downs of competition.

Despairingly, Frank turns to Miss Harding:

CHEERLEADERS

Encouraged by their leader, Brenda Barry, twelve female mob psychologists spend their mornings perfecting ways in which to stir the masses. These known agitators moved into action at football and basketball games, creating unrest and militance, and, in fact, downright enthusiasm. Their techniques of persuasion, taught by Miss McCoy, have proven to be powerful tools in the promotion of athletic spirit at North.

The Cheerleaders.

We're No. 1! This fervent cry was echoed in hoarse shouts, polite conversation, and spontaneous outbursts of spirit. It was more than a morale-boosting chant, for it translated itself into reality. This year North captured the Greater Boston League championship by defeating every team it faced. Strenuous training and the expertness of Coach Leone combined to lead the team to a spectacular string of victories despite the obstacles of inexperience and persistent injuries.

Opening against tough opponent Revere, North found itself trailing 8-6 at half-time. But the explosive passing of quarterback Fred Cobban and the startling sixty-four yard run by fullback Don Myer turned the Revere advantage into a 22-16 victory for North. Heartened by this win, the team went on to shut out Lynn English 34-0 in an impressive display of defensive strategy led by All-Scholastic John Magnarelli. North's defense again asserted its superiority by leaving the opponents scoreless in a 16-0 win over Malden. All-Scholastic back Ken McPhee intercepted a Malden pass and galloped fifty-seven yards for a touchdown. The Boston Tech game proved an easy victory, but left All-Scholastic end Rich Trubiano with a bruised shoulder. North's 20-8 win over Somerville also came at a high price, with the injury of key players John Magnarelli and All-Scholastic Tom Lacey.

Undefeated, yet plagued with injury, the team carried its hopes for the League title onto the muddy Thanksgiving day field to face intra-city rival Quincy. Early in the third quarter Coach Leone realized that quarterback Fred Cobban's injured knee was affecting his play, and was forced to make the difficult decision of taking him out of the game. With sophomore Bob Sleeth replacing Cobban, North marched to an 8-0 victory over Quincy, and to the Greater Boston League championship.

SOCCER

With the aid of a strong offense and the excellent coaching of Mr. Golding, the Soccer Team rebounded from an opening game loss to traditional rival Sharon, ending the season with a solid 10-2-2 record. North maintained its reputation as a threatening opponent and a well-coordinated team by finishing third, just two points behind first place Sharon, in the South Shore League.

Outstanding on offense were Co-Captain Larry DeFelice, high scorer with a total of twenty-nine goals, and center Richard Schultz, both of whom were elected to the Patriot Ledger's All-Scholastic Team. The skillful maneuvers of Co-Captain Steve Verenis and goalie Dan Marini consistently served to pull North out of tight spots.

Despite its opening game defeat, the team went on to a 3-2 victory over Sharon and a 6-2 win over Quincy. The year's final game was an intensely exciting, hairbreadth contest with Quincy, this time ending in a tie—a frustrating conclusion to a gratifying season.

BASKETBALL

Trailing by five points at the end of the third quarter, North shifted into its high-gear offense, led by Co-Captain and high scorer Ed Miller, and activated its well-oiled defense under Co-Captain and leading rebounder Rich Trubiano. With agile movements and professional ball-handling, the Raiders came from behind to score a 72-68 victory over Dorchester in the closing game of the season. Having gotten off to a slow start by dropping their opening game to Boston English, the team has made a strong comeback, collecting victories in eleven of the twenty games. The able coaching of Mr. Nolan and Mr. Vermillion, plus the superior play of Captains Miller and Trubiano overcame the team's height problem, giving North a sturdy season record.

Not to be discouraged by their 3-6 record of last year, the Spring Track Team worked to get into shape amidst an air of determination and confidence. With many lettermen returning, Coach Gentry and Captain Tom Lane guaranteed a fine season with record-shattering performances in several events.

Taking over for retiring Coach Lyons, Mr. Gentry trained his boys in speed and endurance for the two and one-half mile cross country race. This fall the course record was broken by junior George Bray, with Captain Graham Murray and senior Frank Damon following close behind.

Senior Pete Day broke the fifteen-year-old shotput record, while Captain Fred Brune ran the forty-five yard hurdle race with unprecedented speed and placed fifth in the State Meet. Junior Joe Massie set a new record for the three hundred yard run, as just one of the outstanding underclassmen who promise to enhance North's potential as a threatening track power.

Versatility proved to be the central factor in the Hockey Team's improvement this year, with many team members playing different positions with equal proficiency. A formidable defense led by Captain Fred Cobban and goalie Gerald Connolly was a powerful adjunct to the offensive wizardry of forwards Ken McPhee and Kevin O'Connell. Juniors Wayne DeShamp and Tom Henderson closed the gaps in North's line and encouraged Coach Laing in his optimistic predictions for next season.

Where you will find the brand names you know and will trust!

Before you accept that first job . . .

Look over your employer as carefully as he does you

What's the Company like anyway? Would I be proud to work there? Reputation for square dealing with employees? Pleasant surroundings?

Will I be working with others my own age? Are they friendly? Do they socialize after hours?

Will the boss be reasonable? Appreciate good, hard work, but won't explode if I make a mistake?

Will I make a decent week's pay? Have a chance for raises, advancement, more responsibility? How about fringe benefits?

Is the work challenging? I had what it takes to get through high school. Will they give me a chance to use my brains?

Note: Many young men and women in this area can answer "Yes" to these questions. They work for New England Telephone.

Why not talk with our employment interviewer soon . . . before you graduate? Ask your Guidance Counselor to tell you when and where to apply.

FROM THE EDITORS. . .

We the editors of the Manet wish to extend our sincerest thanks to all those who have assisted in our attempt to recreate the school year 1966-67. Special recognition goes to our staffs, to our advertisers, and to our patrons, whose efforts and contributions have helped to defray the costs of publication, and also to our school photographer, Mr. James Bleiler, and to our publisher's representative, Mr. Roswell Farnham. Finally, we would particularly like to express our gratitude to Miss Mary Harding for her hard work and expert counsel as this year's faculty adviser.
